Dear Parents/Carers

Despite this week's wind and rain we have had a largely positive third week of term!

Students in year 11 this morning successfully sat assessments on their allocated holiday homework, providing them another opportunity to experience exam like conditions as they approach the final stages of their school career. Their conduct and engagement with this assessment was exemplary.

In the second of two employee engagement opportunities that we have taken advantage through our partnership with OXLEP, five students from year 9 enjoyed a trip to visit world renowned local sculptor David Harber. The students toured the gardens, visited his workshop and design office and produced sketch ideas for their own sculptures. It was a fantastic morning, and we hope to take up an offer to visit again in the summer.

I am also pleased to see the spring sporting fixtures are up and running, some mixed success this week - I hold out hope to be able bring news of spectacular triumphs next week!

Following on Mr Clark's informative video last week, this week Mrs Hills, AHT Teaching and Learning has produced a video to explain the MECE classroom basics. Please do take time to take a look, it can be found here.

Next week, year 9 have a workshop with Mr Mount which marks the launch of the key stage four options programme, the full programme has already been shared with year 9 parents and can be found here.

Aim High

Be Inclusive

Work Together

Mr Peck, CEO is making a visit to MECE on Monday during which he will be having lunch with Presentation Evening prize winners from November's ceremony which unfortunately he was unable to attend.

Wishing you all a fabulous weekend,

Yours sincerely
