

Humanities

(Geography, History and RE)

Eight Reasons why it is important to study the Humanities:

- 1. To practice the analytical thinking skills you need to be a successful student and employee.
2. To improve your skill at oral and written communication.
- 3. To see the links of all areas of knowledge - how it all fits together.
4. To develop a global perspective by studying cultures throughout the world.
- 5. To deepen your understanding and appreciation of other's cultures and other's points of view.
6. To clarify your values by comparing and contrasting them to what others have thought.
- 7. To deepen your resilience by learning how others have dealt with failures, success, adversities, and triumphs.
8. To be inspired by some of the greatest minds and thoughts of the ages.
